ESTABLISHED IN 1859.

NEW CLOCK MAY BE PLACED ON BROADWAY

New Theatre Sight For
Time Piece; $400
Needed

When the grammar school which stood on Broadway between Hamilton and Webster streets was torn down to make room for a modern business building and theatre, the old town clock was removed and placed in the new McKinley school. But the people of Redwood City had for 32 years looked for the time to the old clock on Broadway and it was missed.

Knowing this fact and because Redwood City has no town clock at the present time, the builders of the theatre building have volunteered to have the building changed in order that a clock may be installed. If the people of the town want to buy a clock for this purpose.

The matter was taken up at the meeting of the community council this week and met with favor by all representatives present. Several organizations have also taken favorable action toward raising funds for this purpose. The amount needed will be $400.

"Men Not Wanted" at M. E. Church Next Week

The Institute Club of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church will present a program of music and dramatic entertainment at the church next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. A one-act play, entitled "Men Not Wanted," will be presented and a comedy pantomime will be given by several boys of the club. Vocal and instrumental numbers and readings will supplement the program. Thirty-five cents admission will be charged adults and fifteen cents for children.

TWO APPLICATIONS DENIED BY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Many Protests Received
From Alameda and San Francisco Counties

Petitions for franchise for two bridges to cross the bay from Canastota Point in the far northern part of this county were before the board of supervisors Monday. Another is expected to be presented early in June. The two petitions which were considered by the supervisors Monday were presented by Albert Mansfield of this city, for one group of engineers and one in writing by Frank Elbridge Webb, Attorney Alken, representing the interests of R. W. Thompson was present and advised the board that Thompson would present a petition for a franchise on June 9th.

Several letters protesting against the granting of a franchise for a bridge at this point were read by County Clerk Elizabeth Kneese and personal protest was made by City Manager Hook of Alameda. A request that the permit be denied was received from the board of supervisors of San Francisco. Supervisor Hickey spoke in favor of the Mansfield proposition and asked that it be continued from time to time in order that it might be kept before the board until such a time as a definite conclusion could be reached as to the possibility of building the proposed bridge from San Francisco to Alameda. This was seconded by Supervisor Thompson.

This plan, however, met with opposition by Supervisor Francis and Supervisor Brown. Francis stated that this county has promised to co-operate with San Francisco in securing a franchise for the proposed bridge in that city, and that consideration of another bridge across the bay would injure San Francisco's chances to secure a permit from the war department.

Supervisor Brown stated that work was now progressing on a bridge near San Mateo and said that the board should withhold further franchises until this bridge was completed and financed. Supervisor Hickey's motion to postpone the hearing on Mansfield's application until June 9th was lost when Supervisor Poole joined with Francis and Mrs. Brown. Following the loss of this motion, Mansfield asked that his application be withdrawn. To this the board assented. The Webb application was unanimously denied.

OAKLAND MAN NAMED SUCCESSOR TO W. L. GLASCOCK

Frank Boren Principal of University High
Selected

Frank Boren, principal of the University High School of Oakland, was appointed this week as successor to W. L. Glascock as supervising principal of the San Mateo-Burlingame high school. Boren will assume his new duties immediately.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR JAMES H. FENTON

Funeral services were held yesterday for James H. Fenton of this city, who passed away Tuesday morning at the Community hospital following a long illness. The services were held at the parlors of the James Crowe Co. on Webster street by Rev. C. E. Winship, pastor of the Methodist church. Interment was in Union cemetery.

TO START WORK MONDAY ON I. O. O. F. HALL REMODELING

Building To Be Changed To Correspond
To Masonic Temple

Russell and Duncan, local contractors, will begin work Monday on remodeling the Odd Fellows hall on Main street. The building is to be completely remodeled and will be changed to correspond with the Masonic Temple which adjoins it on the north. Both the plan of the building and the front of the structure will be made to correspond with the Masonic building so that from the front the two will appear as one building.

Most of the organizations which use the Odd Fellows hall as a meeting place will use the auditorium in the fire house during the period of reconstruction. The Odd Fellows lodge, however, will probably use the Masonic hall for its meetings.

The I. O. O. F. hall was built about thirty-three years ago and during its existence practically every fraternal order in town has at some time or other used it as a meeting place.

Crash on Highway Results in Arrests

Two men were arrested by Constable F. B. Grill early Sunday morning following a crash on the highway. The men arrested were Louis Slegger and John A. Pacheco, both of San Francisco.

The crash occurred when the car driven by Pacheco, and in which Slegger was riding, crashed into one at the side of the highway, just south of Menlo Park. The parked car belonged to Maxim Radich and William S. Beall of Palo Alto, who were repairing a tire on the car.

Radich was struck by Pacheco's car and suffered very severe injuries. Beall's injuries were less serious. Constable Grill was summoned and arrested Pacheco and Slegger for illegal possession of liquor. They will appear for trial before Justice of the Peace McAuliffe Monday.

TELEPHONE CO. ISSUES STOCK

American Telephone and Telegraph Company Directors voted to offer its more than four hundred thirty thousand shareholders one hundred eighty-five million dollars new stock at one hundred dollars a share in ratio of one new for each six shares held on June 1, 1928.

The money will be used in financing the needs of the Associated Companies of the Bell System and the Long Lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in plant and equipment for the ever growing telephone business of the country.

The issue is in accordance with the statement of policy made by President Walter S. Gifford in the last annual report in which he said:

"The American Telephone and Telegraph Company accepts its responsibility for a nation wide telephone service as a public trust. Its duty is to provide the American public with adequate, dependable and satisfactory telephone service at a reasonable cost. To attain this end, it is the policy of the company to pay only reasonable regular dividends and, for part of the new capital needed, to offer from time to time new stock to its stockholders on favorable terms. It believes this method of financing will provide the money needed for the business cheaply and with more certainty in good times and bad than any other."

Notices to the stockholders are being mailed today and the subscription warrants, in both full and fractional form, will be mailed June 11th.

Payment for the new stock will be spread over eight months, the first installment of twenty dollars being due on August 1, 1928, the second of forty dollars on December 1, 1928; the third of forty dollars on April 1, 1929. Interest at the rate of five per cent, will be allowed on installment payments and will be credited on the final payment, reducing it to $28.65. Stock so paid for will be issued under date of April 1, 1929.

Subscribers, however, may pay under Option One, the two remaining installments as of December 1. In such instances, they must pay a small amount per share in addition as adjustment of the excess of nine percent, dividends over interest at five per cent to April 1, 1929, in order to make the net rate paid on the money by the company until that date, the same as the interest rate allowed on installment payments.

BIG DEVELOPMENTS HOPED FOR IN LOCAL INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT

REDWOOD HARBOR
AID APPROVED
BY COMMITTEE

Congressman A. M. Free
Confident Bill Will Pass

Confidence that aid would be given by the government for the deepening of the Redwood harbor was voiced this week by Congressman A. M. Free, who has been ardently working to that end during the time that the River and Harbor bill has been in committee. The committee this week approved the inclusion of the Redwood harbor improvement in the bill.

In a letter to the Times-Gazette, Congressman Free also expressed his certainty that this bill will pass the House of Representatives. Free's letter follows:

"I am pleased to advise you that the Committee on Rivers and Harbors of the House of Representatives have, at my request, approved the proposed improvement of Redwood Harbor and this project will be included in the Rivers and Harbors bill, which will be reported out of the Committee in a few days.

I feel quite certain that this bill will pass the House of Representatives this session of Congress. Very truly yours,

A. M. FREE

Congressman Free, however, in a letter to E. B. Hinman, president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, said that he did not think that the bill will be passed by the senate at the present session of congress. He said, "It is very doubtful if the bill will get through the senate during this session. It will probably pass the Senate, however, in the short session which opens the first Monday in December of this year. If the bill should pass both houses of Congress at this session, it may be possible to put the appropriation through in the short session."

"I have been somewhat disappointed that the Rivers and Harbors bill has not been reported out of the committee sooner, but this measure is included in an omnibus bill, which contains many projects, first anticipated."

The success which has met Congressman Free's efforts to secure an appropriation for the deepening of the harbor and the construction of a water and deep ship canal through the industrial property holdings of Newbridge City.

Activities of the fleet of dredges is reported to have to do with the construction of a large lumber yard and other manufacturing plants, the nature of which will be disclosed in the next ten days, it is said.

Pressed for information concerning reports of projected construction of huge water front terminals and industrial plants, J. S. Rear of Redwood City, in San Francisco yesterday, said he was not at liberty to say how far these works will go in the matter of construction of a water and deep ship canal through the industrial property holdings of Newbridge City.

The annual picnic of the Redwood City Woman's Club scheduled to be held here last week was postponed because of the inclemency of the weather. It is now planned to hold the picnic on the 24th.

The monthly meeting of the 17th District Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Woodside on Friday. This district includes all of San Mateo county and Mrs. L. G. Owens of Burlingame is president. The meeting will be called to order at 10:30 and during the noon recess a basket luncheon will be served under the oaks on the local school grounds.

The La Honda stage disputed the right of way with the Troutmead truck on Saturday near the Roth place with serious results to both vehicles. A passenger on the stage received some slight cuts about the face but these were the only personal injuries resulting from the affray.

Miss Pearl Beere and Miss Edith Jordan visited friends in Hollister over the week end. Miss Beere formerly was a teacher in one of the Hollister schools and often visits in that city.

The annual session of the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West will be held next week in Redding. The delegates who will attend from Redwood Parlor are A. S. Liguori, Bud McKay and Charles Junker. Geo. Solari, Ed Scott and Tom Coats were elected as alternates. The delegates will leave Sunday for Redding.

A card party will be given in the Carmel Men's Club rooms on Bradford street next Monday evening by the Italian Catholic Federation. Miss Lillie Deluchi is chairman of the committee which is making arrangements for the event.

About forty members of Redwood City Lodge F. and A. M. visited Lebanon Lodge in San Francisco Tuesday evening.

Peninsula Police Officers
Guests of Sequoia
Theatre

The Peninsula Police Officers' Association, numbering among its members the officers of police departments in Peninsula towns from Daly City to San Jose, held their regular monthly meeting in Redwood City last night, beginning with a dinner at the Fox Shoppe, followed by the transaction of business.

A new note in the entertainment of the out-of-town officers was the showing at the Sequoia Theatre of a picture not yet released for public showing which depicted the trials and tribulations of an officer of the law. The members of the association adjourned to the theatre after the close of the last regular performance and saw projected on the screen the latest Universal release, "The Shield of Honor," starring Ralph Lewis.

The showing was arranged under the auspices of the Redwood City Police Department after the film and use of the theatre had been offered by Otway J. Cosgrove, manager of the local theatre. The out-of-town officers voted the entertainment the most unusual and enjoyable they had experienced in their monthly journey from town to town.

Interesting Exhibits
To Be Shown Here
By Hi School Students

The annual Citizens' Night at Sequoia Union High School on the evening of May 25, under the direction of C. L. Anderson, chairman, will give the public an opportunity to inspect the work of the students in all the different departments of the school. It is estimated that about 2000 people attended the exhibits last year, and owing to the many improvements and additions that have been made since then, a much larger crowd is expected this year, according to Mr. Anderson.

Some of the displays will include the furniture and tools made by the wood shop and machine shop classes, charts and posters depicting the relation of science to industry made by the chemistry classes, dresses made by girls in class periods and textiles in popular vogue exhibited by the sewing department, and the work of the botany, biology and all other classes.

CITY OFFICERS TALK TO PROMOTION CLUB

The regular Wednesday night meeting of the Redwood City Promotion Association was held Wednesday night at the Intermediate School on Broadway. Mark Ryan, chief of the Redwood City Fire Department, gave a talk on fire hazards. His subject broadened out to the erection of the new fire house on Jefferson and Myrtle streets. He willingly explained the financial standing of the department which was quite interesting and pleasing to the members. The organization expressed itself as heartily in accord with the wishes of the fire chief and intending to do everything possible to keep this department at the high standing that it has throughout the state.

The club also enjoyed a talk from Judge Edward McAuliffe, justice of the peace. From the clapping and cheers that he received it was evident that he holds a place near and dear to the hearts of the members of the association. Last but not least the genial police officer, Stanley Woods, was introduced and in his bashful way, made quite a hit.

Miss Pearl Beere and Miss Edith Jordan visited friends in Hollister over the week end. Miss Beere formerly was a teacher in one of the Hollister schools and often visits in that city.

The annual session of the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West will be held next week in Redding. The delegates who will attend from Redwood Parlor are A. S. FRIENDS MOURN DEATH OF YOUNG LOCAL LAD

Little Bronnell Kinkead
Succumbs to Heart
Attack

Funeral services were held Monday from the parlors of Layne and Tinney for Bronnell Le Roy Kinkead, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kinkead, who passed away suddenly Saturday. The services were conducted by Dr. C. E. Winship, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, and were attended by many friends of the little fellow, who by reason of his pleasant and happy disposition was a favorite of all who knew him.

Bronnell was a member of a party of Friendly Indians, who under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. were enjoying a picnic at Milbrae Saturday. He had been unusually happy and well that day and was enjoying the events of the day. It was the close of the day just as the party was returning to the cars for the ride home. Bronnell was with the leaders of the party and was within a few feet of the car when he suddenly and without warning fell to the ground. Roy Hoberger of this city, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. organization in this county, put the boy in his car and hurried him to the Mills Memorial hospital at San Mateo. It was found, however, that death had been almost instantaneous and had resulted from a heart attack.

An inquest was held at the Layne & Tinney parlors. Mrs. Kinkead, mother of the boy, was the chief witness and testified that the little fellow had suffered from heart trouble from birth, but that he had apparently been better for the past year and that his parents believed he was outgrowing his illness.

Bronnell was born in Marion, Iowa, and was eleven years of age. He came to this city with his parents about five years ago. In addition to his parents he is survived by a brother, Max Kinkead, and by two sisters, Mrs. Glen Alexander and Miss Gladys Kinkead, all of this city.

Local Doctors Examine Pre-School Children

An examination of children who will enter the first grade and kindergarten at the opening of the next term of school was held at the McKinley school Wednesday morning by Dr. Harper Pettit and Dr. Herbert Clattenburg. More than fifty children were examined during the day. Miss Cora Clute, school nurse, was assisted by the following ladies from the Redwood City Woman's Club: Mrs. Robert Hammond, Mrs. R. W. Perkins, Mrs. Ed Allen, Mrs. John Heckendorn.

The examination was given free in order that all children who will enter school might be given an opportunity to have any physical defects corrected.

Improvements Planned For Burial Ground

Members of the Community Council, consisting of representatives of various organizations of the town, met Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce offices. One of the chief matters discussed was the improvement of Union cemetery on Woodside road. A plan which will be presented to the city council at its next meeting will include the recommendation that a survey be made of the cemetery by the city engineer's office to define the limits of the burial ground. The cleaning up of the place and the planting of a lawn and shrubs was also recommended, and the removal of the present dilapidated wooden fence and its replacement by a neat iron one.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seits are leaving today for Los Angeles, where they will remain for the week-end.

SEQUOIA PLACES THIRD IN STATE BAND MEET

Seven Students Selected
For Band of 150
Pieces

Sequoia's band competing in the state band contest May 11 and 12 in the Civic auditorium at San Francisco took third place in the B. Division in the state. Princeton and Arcata took first and second places.

Class A' bands will compete Saturday night for prizes which is a trip to Joliet, Illinois, to enter the National School band tournament.

Both classes A and B were judged on the manner in which they played "Queen of the Night," "Ella," an assigned composition; another selection taken from a list of twenty given them shortly before the time of playing; and "The Star Spangled Banner," in cooperation with all the other bands which made up a mass band of over 1000 players. Herbert Clarke of Long Beach was the judge of the contest.

Sequoia will receive a small tablet placed on a wooden plaque as second prize. Princeton placing first will receive a larger tablet 14 x 10 inches on a wooden plaque.

Friday afternoon seven members of Sequoia's band played in a 150-piece band composed of the best players from the different bands competing. They are Brandon Stanley, flute and piccolo; George Cawthorn, flute and piccolo; Francis Sumner, oboe; Fred Steen, bassoon; Charles Merrill, alto saxophone; Fred King, E flat clarinet; Virginia Klassen, harp.

KIDDIES TO GIVE PLAY IN SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

"The Princess of Dreamland," Written
By Miss Bernice Schow

The children of the first three grades and the kindergarten of the McKinley school are rehearsing for a production of "The Princess of Dreamland," a little play written expressly for the use of the smaller grades by Miss Bernice Schow, a teacher in the McKinley school. "The Princess of Dreamland" will be staged in the auditorium of the school on June 6.

San Carlos Bank To Open in New Quarters

The San Carlos Bank will occupy its new banking room in its specially erected building tomorrow, and will mark the event with a formal opening for its customers and friends.

The main banking space is a large handsome structure facing on Cypress avenue and with a series of large windows on the Laurel street side of the room. The same building also includes a large store room on Cypress and a smaller one facing on Laurel.

The banking room is 26x60, inside measurements, and is handsomely equipped with the usual counter, with four windows for the transaction of business, and with a raised off space for bank officers at the front, to the right of the main entrance. In rear of the main banking space is a large vault which contains a section devoted to safe deposit vaults and boxes in various sizes. This is the first installation of safe deposit boxes in San Carlos. Above the vaults there is a mezzanine floor which has been equipped for a director's room and will be now assigned to the use of the advisory board, as the bank was recently purchased by the French-American Corporation for the United Security Bank and Trust Company, and will therefore have an advisory board instead of a directorate.

Officers of the bank are Charles N. Macdonald, president; S. A. Daudetel, vice-president, and N. A. Egilbert, cashier.

The building was erected for the bank on a long time lease at the builder.

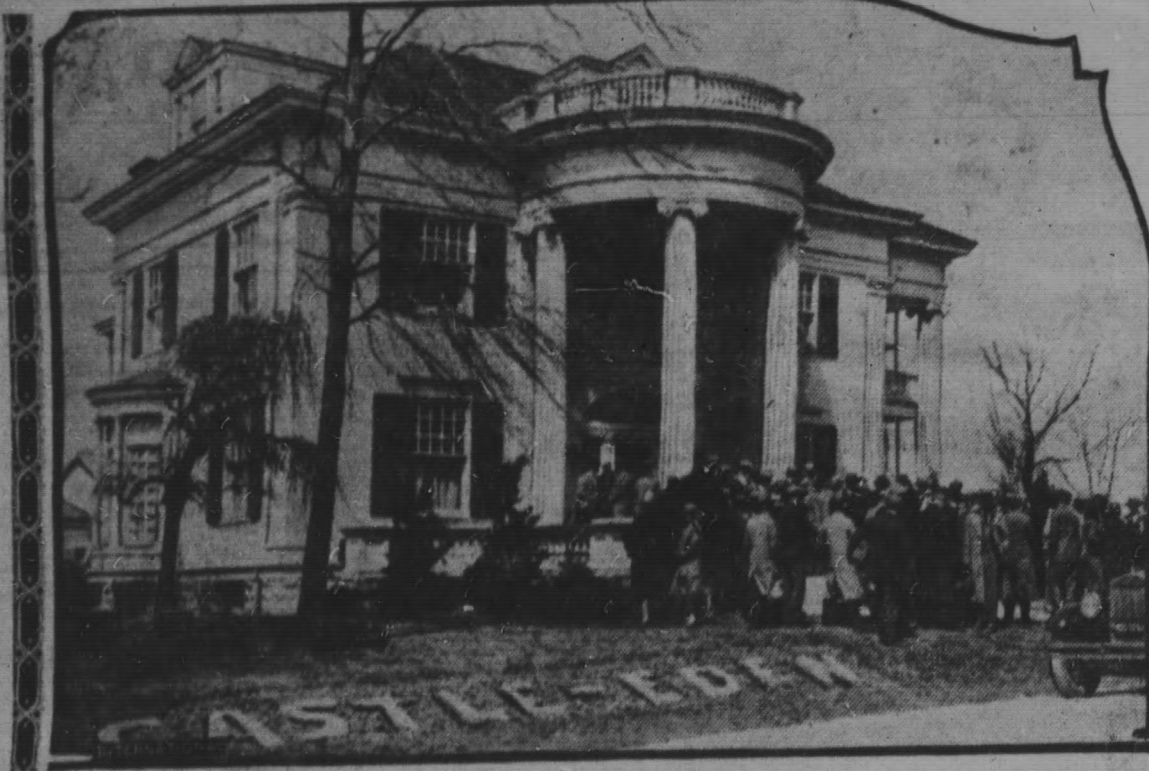

PARK OPENING POSTPONED BY NATIVE SONS PARLOR

Redwood Parlor N. S. G. W. has postponed the opening of their park in the mountains from May 26th to June 3rd. On the latter date members of Bonita Parlor, N. D. G. W. of Redwood City and of Stanford and Pacific Parlor of San Francisco will be guests of the Redwood Natives at

Merely Mind

Honesty isn't the best policy. It isn't any kind of policy. It is a state of mind, or else it isn't honesty.

Heavy Hitters in Cub Outfield

ONLY two positions on the Chicago Cubs' squad are worrying Manager Joe McCarthy, who believes his outfield to be the best hitting corps of outer gardeners in the land, his pitching staff an "up and coming" threat, and his catching department "no cause for worry."

"It is hard to say just now what the Cubs will do," the Chicago Nationals' pilot said, "but if present appearances are of any consequence we should be at the top."

"I expect Pittsburgh to be the hardest club in the league to beat, with New York and St. Louis also standing in the way of the championship. Brooklyn should be a better club this year, and the same goes for Cincinnati. The race should be even closer than that of last season."

Reverting to his own team, the iron-handed but well-liked leader of Chicago's Northsiders said second and third base have caused him the most trouble, but these now have been pretty well filled from the outstanding material on hand. "Freddie Maguire and Norman McMillan, both newcomers, have shown good work at second, while Elmer Yoder and John Butler, the latter also a recent addition, make it hard to choose between them for the 'hot corner.' I consider all able to cover second and third with credit."

The other infield posts he has made up his mind about. Elwood, English, twenty years old, is "a fixture at short," and Charley Grimm a "certainty at first," McCarthy said.

Besides believing his outfield "the country's best hitters," the Cubs' pilot declares it also is good defensively. "The addition of Kiki Cuyler from the Pirates gives us a good ball player who is a powerful hitter. He possesses a strong arm and is fast. I look for Elmer to make this season an outstanding one for the Cubs."

"With Stephenson and Mack Wilson in left and center, and such extra strength as Cliff Heathcote and Earl Webb, is it any wonder that I say it is the greatest of hitting outfields?"

"The pitching staff looks good to me. It is young—only two men are over thirty—and is coming along all the time. The leaders of the corps, Art Nehf and Harold Carlson, are not through with the game by any means. Then there is Dave Malone, gotten from Minneapolis, a young fellow who should make good on the team. And the veterans, Root, Jones, Blake and Osborne, made a good showing in training."

Illinois Experimenting for Sod for Gridirons

The football gridiron is to be put under the scientific microscope. The college of agriculture of the University of Illinois is seeking to solve for the athletic association the problem of maintaining a satisfactory turf for football fields.

The experiments are to be conducted on 90 miniature gridirons, arranged like a checkerboard into one regulation field. Nine different grasses or turf plants are to be sown in strips running crosswise of the gridiron. These strips are then to be crossed at right angles with ten different amounts and combinations of fertilizers, running the length of the fields. Thus there will be 90 different grass and soil treatments for study.

The experimental gridiron will be used by the Illinois squad for practice next fall, to subject it to the same treatment it would receive under actual playing conditions.

Southwest Again Claims "Bo" McMillin as Coach

A. N. ("Bo") McMillin's advent at the Kansas State Agricultural college next fall as head coach of football will be a homecoming to the Southwest for the former Centre college gridiron star.

McMillin was born at Fort Worth, Texas, and has spent most of his life in the southwestern states. After leaving Centre, where his leadership of the "Praying Colonels" carried that team to national fame in 1919, 1920 and 1921, McMillin went to Geneva college, Beaver Falls, Pa.

After two successful years at Geneva he now succeeds Coach Charles W. Bachman, who resigned last fall to become head coach at the University of Florida.

Leader of Red Sox

The photo shows Bill Robb, manager of the Boston American league team, who is confident his team will battle its way out of the cellar, so long occupied by the American league representatives in the Hub.

Levinisky Going West

Battling Levinisky, veteran heavy-weight boxer, who has found the fountain of youth somewhere in his travels and is keeping it a deep secret, is planning an invasion of California shortly. The rejuvenated batter has quit Philadelphia and ere long will make Los Angeles his headquarters. Al Lippe, quite prominent and very well liked along the Pacific slope, has several tentative matches lined up for Bat.

Pirates Drop Two

The ax has fallen among Donie Bush's Pittsburgh Pirates, and the first members of the squad to feel its effect were Pitchers Regis Lehey and John Deming, recruits. Both youngsters were lapped by Bush to have the makings of ball players, but they lack experience. Lehey will be sent to Heine Grobe's Sudbury club, one of the Pirate kindergartens. Deming will remain at his home until a minor league berth has been found for him.

BASEBALL NOTES

The Association of Professional Ball Players of America has 2,425 members.

Bob Browne, well-known infielder, has been signed to manage Lincoln in the new Nebraska State league.

Catcher Fount Tipton, promising receiver of the Fort Worth Cubs, has been sent to Evansville of the Three-I league.

Jack Dunn, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, is a keen follower of the turf and attends race meetings whenever he can.

Baseball has its international flavor this year, too. On the University of Illinois team is a third baseman named Lymperopoulos.

Ernie Wingard, former St. Louis Brown, who is now with Minneapolis, says he hopes to return to the big leagues after this season.

Terre Haute of the Three-I league has sold Pitcher Tex Nugent to Tyler of the Lone Star loop. Nugent has been a relief hurler with the Tots for two seasons.

Jim York, veteran southpaw pitcher, has been turned over to Birmingham of the NYP league by the Reading Internationals. He is the property of the Chicago Cubs.

New York series are already counting the Giants "in." Andy Cohen has made the infield, while the catching staff is the best in the league—at least so they say.

Catcher Tip Tipton, with the Birmingham Barons this spring, has been handed to Tampa of the Southeastern league, rounding out Manager El-Lan's catching staff.

Two of the most promising young pitchers in the major leagues this year are from Brown university. They are Hadley with Washington and Billings with Detroit.

Bill Robb, a first sacker who has been with the St. Paul Saints of the American association, has been purchased by the Springfield Midgets of the Western association.

Bill Huber, a veteran who did the third basing for the Buffalo champions in the International last season, has been purchased by Little Rock of the Southern league.

The Bloomington club of the Three-I league announces the purchase of Pitcher Rudy Wepfer from Montgomery of the Southeastern circuit. He has had two years' experience.

The Dallas Steers have sold Pitcher Leo Skidmore to Minneapolis of the American association. The Steers bought Skidmore from Baltimore of the International during the winter.

Jimmy Moore, veteran player and manager who was burned in a hotel fire at De Puniak Springs, Fla., during the winter, is recovering and hopes to don a uniform this season.

This Brannon the Browns have on second base is enjoying his first taste of baseball as how it is played in the majors. Last year he was with Tulsa in the Western league, a St. Louis-owned farm.

Outright purchase of Clarence B. Huber, third baseman, from the Buffalo club of the International league, was announced by President R. G. Allen of the Little Rock club of the Southern association.

Battle for the third catching job with the Detroit Tigers was settled with the announcement that Eddie Phillips would be turned over to the Toronto Internationals. That leaves Pinky Hargrave the Victor in a hot scrap that has been going on all spring.

PULLED FIRST OF TRIPLE STEALS

Harry Davis Given Credit for Engineering Play.

In a game at those old Columbia avenue grounds in Philadelphia, Harry Davis engineered what is probably the first triple steal in the history of the game. In this game the Athletics had the bases full with Davis being the runner on third. After the pitcher had the next Athletic batsman in the hole with "two and nothing," Davis figured that he would certainly "waste" the next ball, and quickly flashed the signal to the other runners to start with the pitch.

As the pitcher started his windup, Davis, who was a slow runner, and therefore receiving scant attention from the opposing pitcher and catcher, dashed for the plate, the runner on second started for third, and the runner on first headed for second. Harry had figured the play right—the pitcher "pitched out," and the batter being a right-hand batsman, this gave Davis an opening to slide over the plate with the run, the runner on second reached third, and the runner on first stole second, completing a triple steal.

Harry Davis is also responsible for an addition to the "squeeze play"—one that scored two runs on a "squeeze bunt" instead of only one. The Athletics introduced this "double squeeze" play in 1913 and worked it successfully six out of seven times that season, scoring two runs on a bunt on each occasion.

The only time it failed to work was once against Washington, when, with nobody out and runners on second and third, Barry bunted a looping, little liner right into the hands of Chick Gandil, the Washington first baseman, who was tearing in to field the bunt, and the latter completed a triple play, as both runners were so far advanced they were unable to return to their respective bases.

CLOTHES IDEAS FROM ABROAD

By Mae Martin

Last fall when I was in France, I admired the dress which the daughter of our hostess was wearing, and she confessed it was three years old, originally rose-beige, now dyed a rich, deep shade of red! The French are eternally surprising you with their little tricks like that—tricks which it pays to imitate.

Most of us have dresses which, if allowed to remain their original color, are discarded or seldom worn. Re-dyed, they become favorites again.

Just get a package or two of true fadeless Diamond Dyes, and try your hand at tinting or dyeing. You'll be amazed to see how easy it is to use Diamond Dyes. They never disappoint you. The "know-how" is in the dye. They are real dyes like those used in the cloth was made. They never give things that redyed look like make-shift, inferior dyes. The more than sixty colors you can get from them include everything that's fashionable.

My new 64-page illustrated book, "Color Craft," gives hundreds of money-saving hints for renewing clothes and draperies. It's FREE. Write for it, NOW, to Mae Martin, Home Service Dept., Diamond Dyes, Burlington, Vermont.

Mother's Day and The Old Folks

LAST SUNDAY, Mother's Day, was fittingly observed at the Odd Fellows Home at Saratoga. Members of various lodges and friends in the bay region visited the old folks at their home, picnicked on the grounds and furnished an entertainment for them, which all heartily enjoyed.

As a news item that's that. But if you want a thrill, something to make your soul feel glad something—yes, just something that will almost make the tears come to your eyes—tears of joy that when you shed them make you happy in the thought that the world is getting better and better, and a knowledge that these old folks are spending the sunset of their years in such a haven of rest—just visit the Odd Fellows Home at Saratoga.

To add to this thrill just have J. D. Ward, a veteran of 50 years of service in the order, a man well past 75 year mark, and a resident of the home for nine year, show you about the place. He knows every nook and corner, and will explain the ins and outs of the home in a most entertaining manner. He is sold on his home and his enthusiasm is vibrant with life. Many a young man could well feel proud of this man's humor, keen sense of appreciation and entertaining manner. His enthusiasm is a tonic, and you leave him glad of having had the opportunity of crossing his path.

There are over two hundred men and women residents of the home, being given the best of care, and surroundings surpassed by none.

Legal Loopholes Cause Disrespect for Law

THERE IS A DEFINITE national need for law simplification, particularly in criminal statutes. At present there is so much legal chaos attached to criminal cases that justice is delayed, or defeated.

So rapid has been our civic, state and national growth that laws effective and valuable a comparatively few years ago are now entirely impractical. Yet little effort is made to correct them.

The legal system of the British Empire is more accurate and immediate, with the result that a high percentage of criminals are caught and convicted, and crime is discouraged. A simple, but complete, criminal code that is unhampered by "legal" loopholes will do more to discourage crime than a thousand laws and ordinances which merely restrict the law-abiding citizen, to the safety and advantage of the crook.

No one objects to curbing the criminal, but there is widespread objection to continually bearing down harder on the honest man or woman.

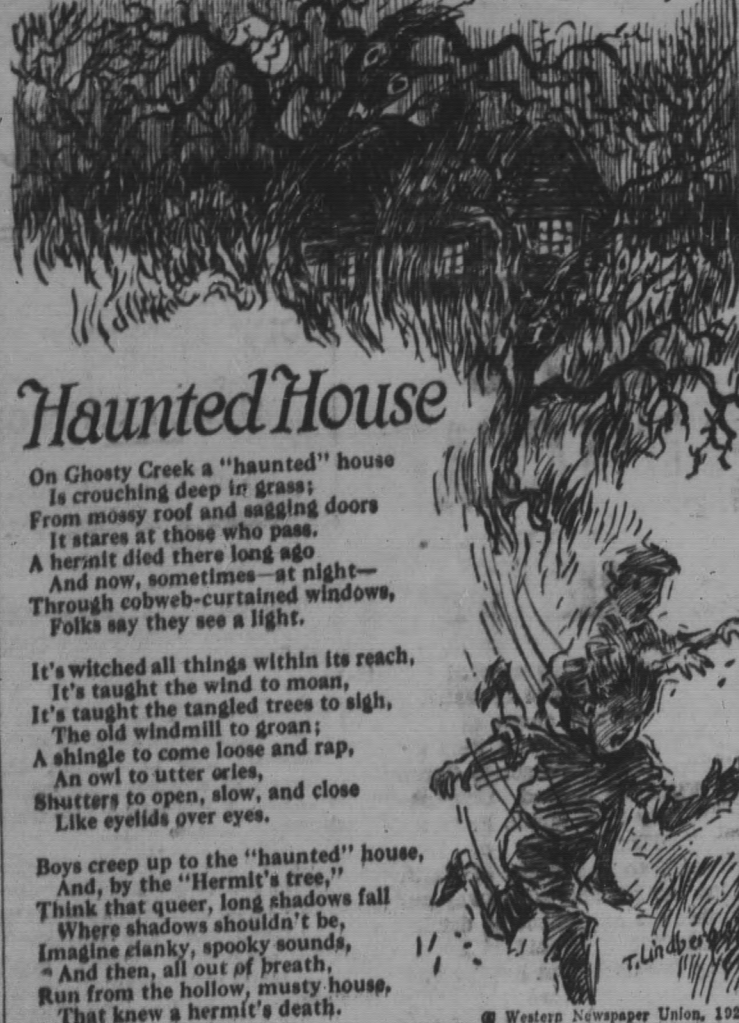

Rural Population Is Advertisers Asset

THE SMALLER NEWSPAPERS of the country are the most important newspapers, and incidentally, in proportion to their circulation, their advertising results are the biggest, and their advertising rates are the smallest in the country. They are read through from end to end. Every copy of circulation means an entire family, not a family that lives in one room with a can opener, but a family that owns its own house, and land around it, at least ninety times out of a hundred; a family that buys everything, from the roof on the house, to the cement on the cellar floor; from the hat on mother's head to the shoes on the boys' feet. The service that their publishers render to the public is, in my opinion, the most important service rendered by any class of citizens in the United States. The country editors are distributors of information; they reach the minds of the boys that leave the farms, and they are the nation's mental office force," says Arthur Brisbane.

After half a century in the publication of newspapers, daily and weekly, the writer can indorse the opinion of Arthur Brisbane that the country paper is read from end to end, and the advertisements are of special interest. Where a hundred read at that is in the home weekly, only one in that one hundred peruses all that is in the big city daily paper that comes to them. Large foreign advertisers are also becoming cognizant of the fact that space in country weekly and small city daily papers is of real value to them; that they can gain more at less cost, at the same time securing as much combined circulation with a certainty that their advertisements will be read by all—Woodburn, Ore. Weekly Independent, April 12.

Songs of Plain Folks

By James Lewis Hays

Haunted House

On Ghosty Creek a "haunted" house
Is crouching deep in grass;
From mossy roof and sagging doors
It stares at those who pass.
A hermit died there long ago
And now, sometimes at night—
Through cobweb-curtained windows,
Folks say they see a light.

It's witch'd all things within its reach,
It's taught the wind to moan,
It's taught the tangled trees to sigh,
The old windmill to groan;
A shingle to come loose and rap,
An owl to utter cries,
Shutters to open, slow, and close
Like eyelids over eyes.

Boys creep up to the "haunted" house,
And by the "hermit's" tree,
Think that queer, long shadows fall
Where shadows should not be,
Imagine flanks, spooky sounds,
And then, all out of breath,
Run from the hollow, musty house,
That knew a hermit's death.

BRIGHT FUTURE SEEN FOR FRUIT GROWERS

High Prices Combined With Plentiful Crops Is the Prediction

By LAWRENCE MONFORT

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—The state's official forecast today picked up his hand and predicted that this year of 1928 will be one of bounty and prosperity.

A bumper wheat crop, prospects of good yields of other grains, and, so far as he could determine without straining his eyes by scrutiny of the horn's interior, a fine harvest of fruits, nuts and vegetables, are on their way and will arrive in due season to enrich the farmer, make the manufacturer glad and cause the working man to let out his belt a notch or two.

So said the seer, in this case, E. E. Kaufman, federal state agricultural statistician, whose final crop forecast for 1928, on the basis of present progress of produce of California's soil.

The state already has ample proof of fine results from early vegetable plantings, and the horn said Kaufman yet has to yield only in ratio to present prospects to beat the record of $65,547,000, the grand total of farm value rolled up last year.

The farmer who gambled on Dame Fortune's wheel to return him big profits on wheat, stands an excellent chance to win said the statistical expert. The condition of California wheat as of May 1 was 86 per cent of a normal as compared with 91 last season and 10-year average of 84. Reports indicate the harvesting of about $17,000 acres for grain, with the seasonal conditions remaining favorable, the prospective crop should be about 15,106,000 bushels, equivalent to 453,180 tons. This compares most favorably with the 13,442,000 bushels harvested in 1927, and the outlook is especially optimistic, inasmuch as the winter wheat crop condition of the entire United States is but 73.8 percent of a normal as compared with 85.6 last year, with an indicated harvest of 25,855,000 bushels, or 2,014,000 bushels less than in 1927.

While prospective crops of barley and oats depend on weather conditions for the next few weeks, respective conditions were 90 and 93 as of May 1.

Early as it may be to speak of fruit crops, Kaufman speaks optimistically for the grower. Reports indicate a heavier almond yield, the condition being 74 per cent against 62 a year ago. Apricots suffered from March rains, but a condition of 55 percent of normal is indicated.

Cherries promise a fair yield, with prospects better in other sections than in the Napa and Sonoma areas.

Kaufman will not forecast the citrus crop until the flowering stage of oranges has passed, but May 1 reports showed flowering quite heavy.

Definite forecast for peaches will be issued about June 9. Present indications, however, are very good for all varieties north of the Tehachas, where 90 percent of this fruit is produced. Substantial increase in bearing acreage of clingstones is not reflected in freestone areas, where acreages remain about the same.

Early grape indications, too, are favorable, no damage from frost having resulted, while the outlook for apples is very promising in all important commercial areas.

Prospects for a good crop of pears are favorable, said Kaufman, and the outlook for prunes is favorable, but not quite as good as a year ago. The condition of the plum crop is 82 per cent of a normal as compared with 67 last year.

Walnuts and peaches south of the Tehachas suffered from early spring conditions, but for all fruits, the acreage classed as bearing will be five per cent greater this year than last. A slight

STATE'S CROPS EXCEED TOTAL GOLD PRODUCTION

California Land Values Exceeded Only By Iowa

Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, May 16.—The red shirted miner who first declared: "That's gold in them hills," literally knew his vegetables.

Production of the yellow metal has declined as the state's agricultural yield as increased, until today, according to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, gold production since discovery in '48 totals less than current values of the land from which California farmers take $700,000,000 annually.

Acre for acre, taking a broad average through the state, California land is worth more than twice as much as the average farming area throughout the United States.

Despite the adage that sure things mature slowly, the state's land values have increased with amazing rapidity in recent years. This state alone showed a gain in average land values in the decade of 1910-20 when, throughout the nation prices boomed only to deflate tremendously with the end of the World War.

Today California's average land value, $115, is exceeded by that of but one state, Iowa, where, according to Jordan's suggestion, the average of $184.87 may be influenced by high-class salesmanship induced by eagerness to bring plenty of money west for investment in Golden State lands.

Other leading agricultural states have not yet recovered from the price decline suffered after the war. California being the one commonwealth showing steady progression in values.

The average of farm worth, irrespective of soil quality, location or size likewise has gained in this state, climbing from $1633 in 1920 when the total value of 88,197 ranches was $1,450,601,488 to $2311 this year when there are more than 137,000 farms in operation, with combined land and decrease in the bearing acreage of grapes of table and raisin varieties, also is noted, while wine grape acreages increased four per cent.

CHANGE IN SPEED LAW PROPOSED BY ASSEMBLYMAN

Limit of Speed May Be Lifted; Responsibility Placed

(By Capitol News Bureau)

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—California may junk its speed limit and substitute therefor laws holding drivers to strict responsibility for accidents under a measure which Assemblyman Roy J. Nielson of Sacramento plans to advance at the 1929 session of the legislature. Nielson believes that speed of 50 miles or more, dependent upon width and condition of roads and straight-away conditions is needed in California, while some plan whereby drivers will be held accountable for safety of other motorists and pedestrians without any possibility of escape from punishment once that responsibility is fixed, is equally needed.

This policy of any speed consistent with safety is working satisfactorily in eastern states and Canada, according to State Controller Ray L. Riley, recently returned from a transcontinental trip. The controller believes, however, that if the speed ban is lifted, the law should have a provision making the person responsible for accidents subject to criminal action as well as civil suits.

Improper License Costs Alien Angler Stiff Fine

(By Capitol News Bureau)

The use of a license intended only for citizens of the United States cost Alfred Alaux of San Francisco a fine of $25 in the court of Justice of the Peace E. I. McLaughlin of this city Tuesday. Alaux was arrested by Game Warden Jack Burke.

Burke also arrested Milton Slesher of Daly City for fishing without a license. He was fined $10 by Judge McLaughlin.

building values of $3,152,488,322, Jordan declared.

In addition, implements and machinery on farms of the state today are worth $113,487,700, making the total capital inventory of California agricultural holdings $3,424,755,988.

When the last of the 1927 crops had gone to the warehouse or had been loaded for shipment, California agriculturalists had realized an average value per acre of $35.65 for field crops, while fruit crops, despite an "off" year in many lines were valued at $130.67 on an acreage basis and vegetables measured by the same standard were worth, roughly $200 per acre, according to Jordan's information.

Wild hay today rates as the crop worth the least of all field produce on an acre basis, while hops rate highest, the secretary of state pointed out. In the fruit classifications, lemons are the aristocrats, while table asparagus is "king" of the vegetable kingdom, so far as the acreage return to the grower is concerned.

Value per acre of crops were announced by Jordan as having averaged last year:

MARKETS SOUGHT FOR CALIFORNIA PRODUCTS

State Market Director To Blaze Trail for Wider Sales

(By Capitol News Bureau)

SACRAMENTO, May 16.—Market scouts, whose duty it will be to make thorough study of conditions in chief buying markets with relation to the 1928 crop will leave California within a few weeks to blaze the trail for wider distribution of canned and dried fruit, particularly peaches and prunes.

This announcement, made by B. S. Critchfield, marks the state's first definite step toward increasing demand for California grown produce since Critchfield took office as state market director.

The scouts will seek to determine what market conditions will be for the 1928 crop, whether prices will be lower or higher than last year, whether the demand will be greater or less, what are the chief competing crops from other states and nations and where are the potential markets as yet undeveloped.

State Law Protects Strawberry

(By Capitol News Bureau)

SACRAMENTO, May 16.—California law now makes it a misdemeanor to use of superior quality strawberries, but because dealers and growers are honest.

Strict enforcement of the standardization law, whereby made a misdemeanor, microscopic fruit with "fair" specimens, is responsible for this condition, according to Hecke, director of agriculture.

If you want easier baking use the Oven Heat Control

When you placed that roast, pie or cake into the oven yesterday and shut the door, were your baking cares finished? Or did you return and "peep" into the oven and go through a half-hour's mental strain?

The Oven Heat Control on the new Gas Range will take care of all your baking. Just turn the dial to the proper baking temperature. It keeps the Oven Heat right. For there's nothing so important in baking as the proper oven temperature.

That is why meats, pies, cakes and even a whole meal are more deliciously cooked in the new Gas Range equipped with the Oven Heat Control.

Good Material Seen In Football Practice

Football next year, at Sequoia Union High School should and probably will develop into a fairly successful season if the outlook that has turned up in spring practice is not misjudged.

The turn-out for spring practice rang the bell at 55. Those boys turning being: C. Clancy, Heiner, Silva, Dickinson, W. Sullivan, Ryan, Hamilton, R. Clancy, Provo, Walker, Peters, Jones, Hauff, Hinman, Anthony, Cleland, Worrell, Williams, Chilcott, Davis, Short, Stoner, Garcia, Duzani, Aragon, Michel, Hofsford, Crowley, Delacy, Sebring, Sharkey, O'Keefe, Archibald, Kanno, Okuma, Goldthwaite, Bever, Partee, Clarke, Cullen, Prein, Samaria, Lintner, Shelburn, Dalley, Lawler, Britschgi, Dirks, Schweikert, Blomquist, Danz.

Those boys who played last year on the Varsity are: Lintner, C. Clancy, R. Clancy, Silva, Dickinson, W. Sullivan, Hamilton, Worrell, Chilcott, Michel, Crowley, Kanno, Prein, Danz and Britschgi. The backfield will probably be made up of the following: Jones, Cleland, Partee, Schweikert, Dirks, Lintner.

With these groups of experienced men on the team, the other schools in the division of the P. A. L. will have to fight hard to beat them.

Senior Week Complete With Snappy Events

Following the precedent set by the class of '27, the senior class hopes to make Senior Week one of the most enjoyable traditions of the school year. The plans for class day are well under way and it is hoped by the student body as well as the seniors will enjoy the program and other Senior Week events," stated Miss Mary Cowden, senior class advisor.

It has been decided that programs, for seniors, of the events to take place during the week will be given. The senior gift to the school is practically decided on, but what is to be given will not be published, is the statement of Lorin Denny, senior president.

The class numerals '28 have been made and are now ready to be placed in the front sidewalk. The Senior Will committee is at work on the will, which is almost finished.

Upon investigation it has been found that '28 is the largest class to graduate from Sequoia. There will be 131 seniors receive their diplomas on the night of June 8. In 1927 there were about 105 seniors graduated and this was thought to be an extra large class by many people. Six of the 131 seniors completed their high school work at Christmas time, but will come back at commencement to receive their diplomas.

Y. L. I. Play Good Baseball Here Sunday

Displaying a marked improvement over their two previous starts and maintaining an aggressive spirit throughout the game, the local Young Men's Institute baseball team turned back the speedy Smith Meat Company Pastimers from San Francisco on the Sequoia diamond last Sunday. At the end of the fray the score stood three to two.

Fourteen innings of air tight baseball elapsed before "Hawk" Herm, of the local outfit sent the horseshoe humming down the first base line to drive in "Brick" Almain with the winning run. The score was tied at two all before Herm connected.

On the mound for the home team "Tack" Hallett pitched bang-up ball, whiffing 11 opposing batters and leaving but 2 bases on balls. To make it a perfect afternoon for himself, Hallett garnered a homer in the third inning. The bases were empty when the clout came.

Schoettler, opposing chucker, turned back eighteen via the strike-out route and allowed 3 walks.

Bartolomei, fiery backstop, Brooks on the first sack and Almain in the short patch, played faultless ball for the locals.

With their impressive victory Sunday, the Y. L. I. team earned the support of all baseball fans in this vicinity and manager Al Bullivant requests all those who wish to see a fast contest to be on hand next Sunday afternoon, when the locals hoo up with another San Francisco team.

CAMP YU-MI-CI-A ATTRACTS BOYS OF ALL AGES

Announcement Is Made Camp Will Open June 18th

Indications point to one of the heaviest camping seasons in the history of the Y. M. C. A. for this year.

Announcement has just been made that Camp Yu-Mi-Ci-A, the Y. M. C. A. camp here in San Mateo county which is situated about a mile above the County Memorial Park on Pescadero Creek will open on June 18. Four camping periods of ten days each have been planned with a possible fifth period if the demand warrants.

Due to the enthusiasm of the boys who enjoyed this camp last year some boys have had their applications in for two months with a deposit so that they can be reserved. Applications are now coming in daily. In order that the boys may receive the maximum personal attention not only from the leader of the tent group, but also from the camp director, the number that will be permitted to attend each camp period is limited to 60.

Not only the boys but their parents were very much elated over the way the camp was run, the boys, the interesting activities and character building values which were stressed, and the excellent food, nutritious and of the type that tempted the appetite.

Camp Yu-Mi-Ci-A has one of the finest natural swimming pools in the west. It is fine not only for the swimmer but for the beginner. It is carefully supervised and boys who do not know how to swim are given special attention.

The camp is non-military. It is handled in such a way that the boys feel that they are a big happy family together, and consideration for the other fellow is the rule. The first period from June 18 to 28th will be for boys 12 to 15 years of age and will be known as the Pioneer section. The fourth period which begins July 19th will be for boys 9 to 12 years of age and will be called the San Mateo County Friendly Indian party. The cost for a ten day period in this camp is very nominal, ten dollars for ten days. This brings this camp within reach of practically every boy. There is no additional fee even for transportation as the San Mateo County Y. M. C. A. Camp Committee are expected to handle this as they did last year with the aid of some of the parents of the boys.

For boys who need a change of altitude the Y. M. C. A. Camp McCoy in the high Sierras, near Strawberry Lake, is an ideal spot. This camp costs about the same but there is a transportation fee. This camp will have periods for boys 9 to 12; 12 to 15; 15 to 18, and 18 to 25 years old.

In addition to this twenty picked boys 16 years of age or over will be taken for a trip to the Orient. Plans are to make this most educational and helpful. This party will leave San Francisco the first week in June.

Applications for any of these camps can be made through the local Y. M. C. A. secretary, Roy A. Hohberger, who can be reached by calling Redwood 974-J.

These camps are open to all boys, irrespective as to whether they belong to Y. M. C. A. groups or not.

Card Party To Be Given for Girls

For the benefit of the S. G. S. scholarship, the mother's of the junior girls will give a bridge and whist party at the Women's Club Redwood City, Tuesday, May 22, at 2:00 o'clock. It will be under the direction of Evelyn MacArthur under the advisement of Miss A. Burns, dean of girls at Sequoia Union High School. The price of admission will be 50 cents each or $2 a table. Prizes will be crocheted handkerchiefs and are being made by several of the junior girls.

Last year a similar party was given by the junior mothers and proved to be much of a success for it made nearly one-half of the scholarship, forty-six dollars.

"As this is such a worthy cause, and will do much for some S. G. S. girl, we hope that many will attend and that most of the town people will become interested."

Exchangites Hear Talk On Athletic Problems At Stanford University

The problems of the publicity man of a big university are many according to Don Liebendorfer, news service director of Stanford University, in an address before the Redwood City Exchange club Tuesday evening. Liebendorfer told several interesting facts in regard to the management of the annual big game between the universities.

J. W. Locker was chairman of the evening. A talk on "Mother's Day" by A. J. Stebbins was much enjoyed. The club had as its guests the sons of several of the members. Those present were Jack Frost, Merlin Stokes, Stanley Netherton and LeRoy Kennedy.

A committee consisting of Harvey Connor, Kendall Towne and A. J. Stebbins was appointed to take up with the legislative representatives of the district the matter of having all aviators who fly licensed.

Kiwanis Club Meets At McKinley School

The regular weekly meeting of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club was held this week in the McKinley school instead of at the Episcopal parish house as is the regular custom. The club had given a tree to the school to be placed in front of the building, and it was for this reason that the school was used as a meeting place.

The chief speaker of the meeting was Captain Charles Goff of the San Francisco traffic department, who told of the problems which confront the traffic officer in the big city. The chairman of the meeting was Z. T. Thorning, commissioner of police of Redwood City.

Eight Medals Offered Sequoia Graduates

A. C. Argo, principal of Sequoia Union High School has announced the usual custom at graduation will be followed by the awarding of eight medals. The medals are as follows:

The Carrington scholarship medal, presented by Otis M. Carrington, director of music; to the graduate who has made the highest scholastic record during his whole high school course.

Williams athletic medal, presented by D. W. Williams, awarded to boy graduate who has the highest athletic achievement and has given the greatest athletic service to the school and at the same time has maintained a high scholastic record.

Girls' athletic medal, given by A. C. Argo and John Gill, to the girl graduate who has been the most outstanding in athletics since her entrance in school, taking into consideration athletic achievement, spirit, service, and scholarship.

Walsh history medal, donated by George Walsh to the graduate who in history makes the highest scholastic record and who the fullest understanding and takes the greatest number of courses.

Drake shopcraft medal, presented by F. H. Drake, San Carlos, to the graduate who has majored in wood or machine shop and has done the best work in that department.

Two service medals presented by the associated students to the boy and girl who have given the most service to the school, the basis for the award being the number of service points earned.

Ross debating medal, which was given by the late George Ross and will continue to be given by his son, Leo Ross. It is awarded to the graduate who has taken the most active part in debating.

Constitution Examination For Teachers

An examination in the constitution of the United States will be given by the county board of education in the grammar school on Broadway in this city at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. This is for the benefit of teachers who wish to take this examination. An examination in the constitution is required by the state law before a teacher can be given a certificate.

Many Events Planned By Woodside P.-T. A.

The Woodside Parent Teachers Association is looking forward to a very busy month. Today they will be hosts to the regular monthly business meeting of the 17th District P.-T. A. The meeting will convene at 10:30 with a recess at noon, when they will enjoy a picnic lunch out under the beautiful oaks on the school grounds. Every one in the community, whether a member or not is cordially invited to come.

On the 26th will be a card party of which Mrs. Elzear Bonanfant is chairman. Tickets will be 35c as hold a luncheon at the Woodside Inn, at which time the officers for the coming year will be installed by the district president, Mrs. L. G. Owen of San Mateo. Everyone is looking forward to the event, and it is hoped to make it an annual event.

The Woodside Troop of Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. George Givens, gave their first party last Friday night in the school hall. They entertained about 20 of their friends and the evening was spent in games and dancing. Cookies and punch were made and served by the girls after which those present donated nearly $5 to the fund which the girls are raising to buy their uniforms.

Ideals That Pay Dividends

We have found that ideals in business are profitable. To set a high standard of public service and live up to it; to have a goal of accomplishment and strive for it; to conduct our business honestly, truthfully and as efficiently as possible and to share the rewards of effort, liberally and justly, with those who have helped us earn them—these are some of the ideals we have striven to maintain in the up-building of "the West's largest food concern."

A copy of the Congressional Record of May 1 has been sent to this office. In perusing its columns we find here was a heated debate between Senator S. M. Shortridge and Senator Brookhart of Iowa on the revenue bill when it came before the senate for adoption. During the colloquy Shortridge said:

I do not accept the statement, with great deference to the Senator, that Iowa is broke or that everybody is poor, ragged, and looking in vain for work. I think Iowa is one of the best States in the Union, and that if the true picture were drawn it would appear to be about as prosperous as any of the Mississippi Valley states. I think, indeed, it has the most fertile soil of all the Mississippi Valley states, the best climate, ample water and the best men and women in the growing population made up of land. I do not wish to appear to indulge in levity. Very seriously I object to the Senator's picture of conditions in Iowa, and I think, with due deference, that the Senator renders no service to his State by picturing it as bankrupt or upon the brink of bankruptcy.

Mr. BROOKHART. I remember the grand State of Iowa which is the set agricultural spot in the big, round world, producing more out of the soil than any other spot in the world, when nearly all its farmers owned their homes. The 1925 census showed that 45.7 per cent of the farmers of Iowa were then tenants and that percentage has largely increased since 1925. Then Senator from Connecticut (Mr. Bingham) to show the prosperity of Iowa, put figures in the Record showing that the farmers got $40,000,000 more for their crops in 1927 than they did in 1926, and he gave $719,000,000 as the total value. The farmers of Iowa were entitled to more than $900,000,000 in order to get a fair return and pay the cost of their production. They are still behind, and every sheriff's sale board in the state is plastered over with notices of foreclosures of mortgages at this time. I practiced law for 30 years in Iowa and did not know what a foreclosure was. We did not have them. No; the Senator does not need to tell me about Iowa. I know when our farmers were able to save enough money so that in their old age, they could go to California and stay through the winter, and some of them stayed there and even came back to the United States Senate. I know enough about the farmers of Iowa to know that they are not going to California now and have not gone to California since 1920. I think California had better get behind Iowa and help Iowa back on the level where she once was, because Iowa was the best contributor of all to the prosperity of California.

Mr. SHORTTRIDGE. And a solid Republican State. Mr. BROOKHART. Yes, though I remember when California voted for Woodrow Wilson. Mr. SHORTTRIDGE. She faltered once or twice. If Iowa is in such a deplorable condition, perhaps the Senator has put his finger on the reason, namely, that her more progressive and intelligent and capable people have gone to live in California. Mr. BROOKHART. That may be the reason, but there are some other reasons why the intelligent farmers of Iowa went to California. Those reasons are the discriminations against agriculture in railroad rates. The Esch-Cummins law for which the Senator voted here in the Senate. Mr. Shortridge. Not.

Mr. BROOKHART. The Senator did not? I am glad he did not. It is one good thing we can say about his record here. Mr. SHORTTRIDGE. I was not here then. (Laughter.) Mr. BROOKHART. That is the only reason then. I take it all back. (Laughter.)

(By Capitol News Bureau)
SACRAMENTO, May 16 — Accounting systems of both private and public utilities have been short in bookkeeping methods, State Controller Ray L. Riley declared today in announcing a proposed bill to amend the existing law "sound accounting methods" to be followed by all such corporations, whether public or private owned.

Books of the privately owned utilities often enable such corporations to charge excessive rates, while municipally owned enterprises in some instances also fall short through failure to render information, the Controller said.

From the facts furnished to his office, said Riley, it is not possible to determine whether California's municipal ownership ventures are successful. He added, however, that "each year shows a tendency on the part of municipalities to increase their activities in this direction."

Bird Builds Nest on Liner's Anchor

When the Atlantic liner Aquitania arrived at New York from Liverpool the other day it was discovered that a black pigeon had built a nest on the anchor, laid an egg therein and traveled across the ocean. The bird and her oddly situated home are shown above.

THEY CAN'T SPELL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

SOME one who has been probing into the history and development of our English language or whatever tongue it is with which we attempt in these parts to communicate with our fellow men, told me not long ago that a few hundred years ago it was not considered the part of a gentleman to spell correctly. The higher up in the social scale you were the more leeway you allowed yourself in the matter of orthography. In fact variety and originality in the putting together of letters to form words was a sign of erudition rather than otherwise.

It was not so when I was a boy, nor even when my father was going to school. He had in fact very little formal schooling, and yet I was never able to detect him in misspelling a word. I read his diary a few weeks ago, written seventy-five years ago or more when he was crossing the ocean, and there was not in all its pages a misspelled word.

Correct spelling was looked upon as an absolute necessity when I was in country district school. We practiced every day. We wrote words on our slates; we stood up and spelled down; we tied the children in adjoining districts in seeing who could stand up the longest and master the words which were pronounced to us. We were not stumped by such simple combinations as "receive" and "seize" and "truly" and "separate" and "accommodate" which seem to be the water-works of our youthful friends today. We tackled "crystalline" and "dagger-pointed" and "clarivari" and "chiffonier" and words like that and spelled them as glibly as if they had been words of two syllables.

But "when days seem gone forever," even the college student takes spelling lightly and does it frequently with picturesque inaccuracy and thinks nothing of his errors. This fact is

Male Beauty Seekers

New York.—"O, Harold, your beautiful, wavy hair thrills me to death. I mean it really does. Was it always that way?"

"Why, no," replies the young man modestly. "I just dropped into the Beauty Shoppe this morning for my weekly marcellage."

This might well be typical conversation nowadays between the dapper and her well-groomed, wavy-haired sheik, for an ever increasing number of men are patronizing women's beauty parlors in order to enhance their masculine "appeal."

Many a home will roar at this statement, but it is inside dope, straight from the proprietor of a beauty shop, who says that the beauty parlors, once devoted entirely to the ladies, are now no more sacred to the fair ones than the barber shops reserved for men. "The men are now beginning to realize," she explained, "that they must take advantage of art in order to make the best of their personal appearance for business and social success."

Within the past two years, especially, have the boys been invading the beauty shop, not only for marcellage, but for facial treatments, hair dying and even for permanent waves.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

The Dog an Old Animal

The dog was a friend to man long before historical records were made. He serves the Eskimo, the cannibal, the Sudan and the white man the world over. He is descended from wolves and jackals, and it is believed that were he left entirely to himself, he would in time revert to the wild habits of his ancestors.

Whaling "Comes Back"

Washington.—Whaling did not go out with the clipper ships at the advent of steam and kerosene. The modern whale brings in money comparable with the proceeds of the golden age of whaling when corset makers paid $5 a pound for whale bone. It was revealed at the whale symposium at the United States National museum under the auspices of the American Society of Mammalogists.

At the South Shetland Islands, close to the Antarctic circle, Dr. Waldo L. Schmitt of the National museum told the assembled scientists, floating factories convert the big cetaceans brought in by the steam whalers into oil for the soap companies, bone charcoal for the sugar refining industry and ground dried meat for chicken feed.

Under this efficient management a single whale will bring as high as $10,000, Doctor Schmitt declared. The harpooner, the man on whose skill in hurling barbed death at the huge sea mammals the success of the expedition depends, is the most highly paid member of this modern industry carried on in the shadow of the South pole.

At Eureka, Calif., is a shore station, described by Dr. A. Brazier Howell, also of the National museum staff, where a similar whale factory operates on land, turning the products of the humpbacked whales of the west coast into the same useful commodities as are shipped from the Antarctic. The highest value for a California whale, only reaches around $2,500.

The white whales have formed the basis of an industry that has descended from father to son in the colonial times. Copley Amory told the biologists and naturalists. The hides of the big fellows are exported to Scotland, where the canny Scots turn them into shoestrings and apparently make money by the transaction.

Remington Kellogg of the United States biological survey issued a plea to members of the society to turn in information about any logs of old whaling vessels that they might chance to run across. From such records as this scientists are digging out valuable data about the migrations of whales. Sometimes, Mr. Kellogg pointed out, a parasite of known southern origin found on the body of a whale in northern water will reveal useful information about the animal's wanderings.

The bottle-nosed porpoise fishery at Hatteras, N. C., was described by Howard L. Wordell. This porpoise is sought for the oil in the top of its head that furnishes the most expensive oil known to commerce. It is highly prized by watchmakers because it is practically the only oil that does not dry out. About two quarts are obtained from each animal.

GIRL'S CONFIDING UPSETS NAVY TRIP

Believes in Sixth Sense; Calls It "Cryptocosme"

Paris.—"Cryptocosme" is the new name given the sixth sense, by Charles Richey, eminent scientist and member of the Institute of France.

In his latest published justification of this uncanny power Richey reaffirms his conviction that some persons can read the writing with sealed envelopes and reproduce drawings they have never seen.

Richey reminds people they already admit the existence of phenomena that cannot be perceived directly by any of their five senses, such as wireless waves, ultra-violet and infra-red rays and magnetism. Why, then, he asks, deny the possibility of other unknown vibrations?

Aerial Surveys Save Time for Geologists

Ottawa, Ont.—Geologists formerly wasted 75 to 80 per cent of their time exploring unpromising areas. But now aerial surveys have largely banished this loss, says A. M. Narrows, assistant director of topographical surveys. Canadian airmen, Narrows says, have led the world in such work. In the last five years they have mapped out 200,000 square miles of hitherto unexplored territory.

Safe Place for Watch

Stratford, Ont.—A safe place for a good watch seems to be a coal pile. E. J. Sanderson, locomotive fireman, found one when firing his engine. The watch was keeping good time as Sanderson forwarded it to the owner at a Pennsylvania coal mine.

Eagle Attacks Plane

Cracow, Poland.—The eagle resents man's invasion of his domain. One attacked a passenger plane en route to Vienna. A wing of the plane was bent slightly. The eagle suffered the same fate as the mouse that dashed at a railroad train.

Pop Knows Everything!

Some of the customers are irregular, but many of the establishments have their weekly male patrons. The women often resent the intrusion, she said, so her own shop doesn't encourage this trade.

Most of the boys are very awkward about coming in, she related. Either they flush and drop their hat or are too nonchalant to be convincing. They are quite docile under treatment, as a rule, but are apt to be afraid of the formidable looking permanent wave machine. When a man is put in a chair the big contraption fastened on to his hair in about twenty places and the current turned on, he usually moans and asks the operator to hold his hand.

Middle aged business men and prematurely gray young ones come in regularly to have their hair dyed. In their case personal vanity plays no part. There is a strong prejudice against gray hair. So they disguise it under the more youthful shade of dark brown.

Seek Treasure Under Waters of Vigo Bay

"Pieces of eight! Pieces of eight!" Search has again been authorized for the treasure said to lie at the bottom of Vigo bay, in Spain. The Spanish government has recently received a concession to an Italian concern to raise what legend declares to be the greatest lost treasure in history. Nearly 200 stately galleons, laden with gold and silver plate from the New world, representing a total value of something over $100,000,000, are reputed to have gone down in Vigo's waters under an attack by English and Dutch ships. It is this ancient hoard which supplies the theme of Jules Verne's classic, "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea."

The story goes that, in the year 1702, a combined English and Dutch fleet was besieging Cadiz, the regular port of arrival for Spanish galleons from the New World. A long procession of ships, loaded with gold and silver bullion from Mexico, was due shortly, and great was the anticipation of the English and Dutch captains, lolling at ease on their quarter-decks. The Spanish admiral, however, got wind of the little surprise party awaiting him, and instead of sailing up to Cadiz made straight for Vigo, which he reached safely. Then followed the sequel, so inevitable in Spanish history. The officers of the port were doubtful of their authority to take off the cargo and so, standing on punctilio, leisurely awaited instructions from Madrid.

Meanwhile, the outraged British and Dutch skippers, deprived of what Providence so obviously had destined for their use and comfort, learned of the don's duplicity, and hurried around to Vigo. There they found the 200 galleons swinging placidly at anchor while their captains exchanged amenities with the gold-laced commandante, who attended upon the pleasure of Madrid. It took only a few broadsides to remind the culprits that they must get up early and sail far who hope to elude either an Englishman or a Dutchman after money. Down went the pride of Spain, and the belated courier from the capital found etiquette saved, but the stupendous treasure gone. In the two centuries which have elapsed since that fatal day, gun upon gun has been raised from the bottom of the harbor, but never a single bar of gold or silver; never a single doubloon, piece of eight, peseta or centavo.

The affair at least furnished the material for one of the most thrilling adventure stories ever penned; and now the search has begun in earnest, with a group of hardy souls determined to dive, if not "20,000 leagues under the sea," at least a long way in order to recover the fabulous treasure.

Bad Outlook for Some Girl

Raymond is six years old. One morning in school his teacher was trying to impress upon the children the idea of self-reliance. "Your fathers and mothers work for you now," she said, "but what will you do after you are grown? Who will work for you then?" Little Ray's hand went up instantly. "Wives, o' course," he shouted.—Boston Transcript.

MENLO PARK

Planning Commission Meets

The Menlo Park Planning Commission, consisting of Fred Metcalf, D. E. O'Keefe, Mrs. J. W. Cooper, Miss Susan Gale, F. W. Johnson, J. H. Sullivan and City Attorney Whitworth on Saturday last made a survey of the city with a view of zoning the territory into business and residential sections. It is the intention of the commission to keep the business section as a compact space and to enlarge it as it becomes necessary. The spreading out of the business zone will not be permitted. An industrial district is to be formed as well as an apartment house locality. At a meeting of the commission held Monday night a plan of procedure was adopted, which if carried out Menlo Park will soon be one of the finest places to live in on the peninsula in so far as zoning is concerned.

O. W. Hayler, planning expert, gave the commission some useful information regarding its work and matter of procedure. The following evening the commission held an executive meeting with the city council reporting their activities and plans for the future. Chairman of the Commission Fred Metcalf has divided the commission into the following committees:

Finance—Fred C. Metcalf and Frank Johnson.
Zoning—Business, Fred C. Metcalf, Frank Johnson; Manufacturing, John Sullivan, D. E. O'Keefe; Residential, Mrs. Cooper, Miss Gale.
Public Health and Sanitation—Dennis O'Keefe, John Sullivan.
School and Public Buildings—John Sullivan and Mrs. Cooper.
Traffic—Fred C. Metcalf, John Sullivan, Mrs. Cooper.
Streets and Highways—John Sullivan, Miss Gale, Frank Johnson.
Fire Hazards—Fred C. Metcalf, Dennis O'Keefe, Miss Gale.

Return from Honolulu
Mrs. William Cluff, with her little grand daughter, Miss California Breuner, returned on Tuesday from a trip to Honolulu, where they spent several months. Mrs. Cluff will occupy her home on Greenwood avenue for the present but contemplates traveling during the summer.

City Buys 80 Acres
The city council on Tuesday completed the purchase of a strip of land consisting of 80 acres on the bay front adjoining the holdings of the city on the bay front and a portion of the Spring Valley property. This is to be the industrial district of the College City and soon factories employing a large number of men will be located there. This is close to Menlo Park, one of the fast growing and fast selling properties of the peninsula.

Move to Menlo Park Home
Joseph A. Donohoe and his daughters, the Misses Katherine, Christine, Mary and Barbara Donohoe, have closed their San Francisco home on Broadway and are now at Menlo Park for the remainder of the spring and summer.

Chief Furman Busy
Chief of Police Furman is busy rounding up all those engaged in selling liquor within the city limits. He made several arrests this week. Those engaged in the liquor traffic here are taking the hint and are moving back to hills, out of jurisdiction of the city. It's a case of back to the hills and far away.

The Passing of Mrs. Eva Westphal
Mrs. Eva R. Westphal, formerly of Atherton, passed away in San Francisco. She was the wife of Dr. Westphal, former chief of police of Atherton. Both had planned to make a trip to Europe during the coming summer.

Sojourning in the East
Mrs. E. Mahoney is sojourning in the East visiting friends and will be gone for several months.

To Spend Vacation Here
Will Weeden is here from the University of Nevada at Reno, to spend his vacation. He is majoring in mining at the university, which has the best course in mining in the United States.

To Go to Italy
Alexander Beltramo, his mother and sister, will leave the latter part of next month on a trip to Italy to be gone for several months. Mrs. Beltramo will again view the scenes of her girlhood and her son and daughter will see the land of their forebears for the first time.

Menlo Produces Celebrities
It looks now that Herbert Hoover will be the next president of the United States and Menlo Park will class among its celebrities, one congressman, C. N. Felton, two terms; senators, Milton S. Latham, Leland Stanford; Low, Charles N. Felton and Samuel M. Shortridge and one president, Herbert Hoover. Not so bad for a small community. Louis Arguello, the first governor of California, under Mexican rule, lived here for a short time in 1826. Menlo Park has produced men of national fame, and who know, but that Hoover will select a cabinet officer from his home town. Whom shall he be?

Subdivides Acreage
E. M. Rankin has subdivided his one and a half acres at Santa Cruz avenue and Fremont and reports the sale of his first house and has started construction of another.

A Son to Mr. and Mrs. Moore
On May tenth a baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Moore, adding one more to a happy group of two children, totaling three. The late arrival has been named David Gale Moore.

Business Men's Association
The License Business Men's Association will hold a meeting next Monday evening at the Kueh hall. All members are urgently requested to attend as matters of great concern to the association will be discussed.

Leases Home on Santa Cruz Ave.
Chief of Police Tom Furman has leased the George Brown Cottage on Santa Cruz avenue and will move into it at once. Brown has moved to his new dwelling in Valparaiso Park.

Menlo Exchange Club
The Menlo Park Exchange Club held its second meeting at the Gumwood Inn on the Middlefield road Wednesday evening. A full membership was present and all had a delightful time and enjoyed the viands carefully prepared by mine host Dalton. The club will hereafter meet in a local caravanary. The club has a large membership composed of the prominent merchants and businessmen of Menlo Park.

City Council
The city council proceedings of Tuesday evening were enlivened by a hot exchange of words between Councilman Walker and C. F. Slinger of Stanford Park. Walker, as temporary inspector, called at the Slinger place to report on a new building and was told to get to h--- out of the place. He reported the structure was not properly put up and contrary to the state housing act. Furthermore the sewer connections were unsanitary and not proper. Slinger tartly replied that he was not the contractor. Walker in no uncertain language said he was determined to do his duty to the people though the heavens fall. Further argument was cut short by Blake who moved that the matter be referred to the council before the council be temporarily passed.

A communication was read from E. R. Anthony, representing the Southern Pacific Company, asking that the council act on his communication of March 25 and approve of the plan of the company in removing the flagman at the Oak Grove crossing and instead of his services to use a wide road to the crossing.

The building ordinance was then taken up and after considerable discussion was adopted on motion of Ellis, seconded by Blake. The fees are $2 per thousand on the estimated cost of building and 50c for structures less than $300. The mayor said the ordinance was similar to the one in vogue in Atherton, and it was less drastic than the ones in use in other peninsula towns.

The weed ordinance was up for first reading and will be adopted at the next meeting of the council. The council approved of the action of the city attorney in the arrangements he had made to defend the city in the Bear Gulch Water Company's application for a raise in rates before the state railroad commission.

The appointment of a building inspector was taken up. C. H. Smith was placed in nomination by Dale and seconded by Blake. The name of John B. Glunz was proposed by Walker, who said that Glunz was an experienced builder of forty years standing and was well fitted for the position. Walker's motion failing of a second, Smith was the choice of the council. His fees were fixed at half the amount received for building permits. City Engineer Kneese being present, gave the council much valuable information in municipal affairs.

Fred Metcalf appearing for the planning commission, the members of which were present, reported progress in their work and asked that the commission set in executive session with the council after adjournment. The council then adjourned to Tuesday evening, June 5 and met with the commission in executive session.
